Eric is the alternate VPIC Commissioner elected by the Vermont State Employees Retirement System (VSERS), where he has served three terms as a trustee and also serves as vice-chair. Eric is an active employee with ten years of public service working as an analyst in state government.

In addition to his experience in the administration and oversight of VSERS, Eric has served in various other capacities as a fiduciary tasked with financial oversight. Eric currently serves as the treasurer of the Vermont State Employees Association, a 6000-member strong labor union, where he oversees the development of a $3M+ annual budget that supports 20 staff, as well as stewarding its investment portfolio. Previously, Eric served on the board of a major Vermont credit union with $500M+ in assets, where a key responsibility included assessing the interest rate risk of a $100M+ portfolio of treasuries and agency debt. Eric's public service also includes participating in the bicameral Pension Benefits, Design, and Funding Task Force during the 2021-2022 legislative session that produced a substantive, multi-pronged recommendation to improve the sustainability of Vermont's pension systems, which was ultimately enacted into law by the General Assembly. Additionally, he achieved an accredited fiduciary designation from the National Conference on Public Employee Retirement Systems, focusing on public pension governance, oversight, and administration.

Eric earned a BS, MS, and a certificate of graduate study in an economics related field, all from the University of Vermont. He resides in the New North End of Burlington with his family.
